JON WILSGARD from the Town of Golden and Ryan Watmough from the Golden and District Community Foundation show off Golden's new oversized cheque in the Town of Golden office last Thursday.

Golden is now a town with an oversized cheque. Thanks to a Grant in Aid from the Columbia Shuswap Regional District (CSRD), the large, dry-erase cheque is meant to help raise awareness for local funders and recipients.

The cheque measures 2'x4', can be used for photo opportunities and presentations and is located in the Town of Golden administration office. It can be put on display in the funder's office, trade show booth or at the recipient's office.

"I think this cheque will not only help promote organizations and funders, but the recipients too," said Ryan Watmough, Executive Director of the Golden & District Community Foundation.

The cheque is stored and transported in a box with a dry-erase pen and 6 magnetic funder logos including CSRD-Rural Golden, Golden and District Community Foundation, Golden Lions, Golden Rotary, Royal Canadian Legion and the Town of Golden.
